The Arms of the Family of Weldon

The arms as engraved upon this William III English Britannia Standard Silver Tazza by Nathaniel Underwood hallmarked London 1697 are upon the balance of probability and without any evidence those of the family of Weldon. They may be blazoned as follows:

Arms: Argent on a chief gules a demi-lion of the first armed or and langued azure

Although there is a dearth of information on this particular Kentish family of Weldon there are indeed other Weldon families hailing from the County of Kent who bear similar arms slightly different tincturing of the field of the arms and the addition of an extra charge such as a cinquefoil or a mullet.
